Pliny's

Natural History

Translated from Latin by John Bostock and H. T. Riley in Six Volumes

(London, 1855)

Internet Archive Volumes Guide

The pdf versions are bookmarked and searchable, with scholarly notes. The multilingual HTML versions lack the notes.

Wikipedia

Pliny the Elder (23-79 A.D.)
Pliny's Natural History

Volume 1: Stars, planets, aerial phenomena, world geography.
Multilingual HTML version: Pliny's Natural History, Volume 1.

Volume 2: Geography continued, humanity, life cycles, terrestrial animals, fish, birds.
Multilingual HTML version: Pliny's Natural History, Volume 2.

Volume 3: Insects, trees.
Multilingual HTML version: Pliny's Natural History, Volume 3.

Volume 4: Grains, plants, remedies from plants, flowers, properties of plants and fruits, remedies from cultivated trees.
Multilingual HTML version: Pliny's Natural History, Volume 4.

Volume 5: Remedies from forest trees, wild plants, remedies classified by disease, remedies from living creatures, remedies from waters.
Multilingual HTML version: Pliny's Natural History, Volume 5.

Volume 6: [includes General Index]. Remedies from aquatic animals, history of metals, history of paintings and colors, stones, and precious stones.
Multilingual HTML version: Pliny's Natural History, Volume 6.

Prepared by Robert Bedrosian